Welcome to Your Joyful Bowl Meal Planner & Prep Guide

You've made the choice to feed your dog real food — now this planner is here to help you actually keep going. No perfection required. No spreadsheet skills necessary. Just one handy spot to plan meals, shop smart, batch cook like a pro, and stay consistent without burning out.

Part of The Joyful Bowl Series, this 12-week planner is designed to support your homemade routine as you build confidence and find your rhythm. Use it to map out meals, organize grocery runs, track supplements, and prep ahead with less stress.

Inside, you'll find:

- Batch prep checklists – so you can cook once, portion twice, and feel smug about it all week. These pages help you track what's cooked, what's frozen, and what's still somewhere in the back of the fridge.
- Weekly meal planning pages – simple layouts to map out your dog's meals, treats, and toppers for the week (no guilt if you repeat Tuesday's dinner four times — we do it too).
- Grocery lists & pantry checklists – write out your weekly needs, or flip to our pantry checklists (borrowed from the main cookbook) to remember what you might be missing. Yes, frozen peas count. Yes, canned pumpkin must be unsweetened.
- Supplement tracker – whether it's calcium, fish oil, or probiotics, this log helps you stay consistent with add-ins that keep your dog thriving.
- Feeding chart – a quick-reference guide based on weight and life stage, so you're not guessing how much to scoop into the bowl.

There's no “wrong” way to use this guide. Cross things out. Doodle in the margins. Skip a week and jump back in. The goal isn't perfection — it's progress. And the kind of joyful, tail-wagging consistency that makes both of you feel great.

Let's make this a habit worth sticking to — one meal (or lovingly frozen batch) at a time.

Steady Wins:

Planning homemade meals doesn't have to be perfect — just consistent. You've got this!

Supplement Tracker

Use this tracker to monitor your dog's supplement routine. Record what's being given, how often, and any notes on reactions or effectiveness. This can help you stay consistent and spot what's working (or not).

Notes & Ideas

Use this space for anything that doesn't quite fit elsewhere — vet reminders, future recipe ideas, ingredient swaps to try, or questions to research. It's your all-purpose jot zone for anything that comes up while feeding your dog with love (and a little strategy).

Blank lined paper with horizontal ruling lines and diagonal watermark text "VIRTALIBRARY".

Feeding Chart by Weight & Life Stage

Use this chart to estimate your dog's daily portions based on weight and age — specifically for fresh, homemade meals. Puppies need smaller, more frequent meals to support growth. Adults usually eat twice a day, and seniors may do best with two lighter meals.

This chart is based on an average of 300–400 kcal per cup of home-cooked food (think lean proteins, veggies, and healthy fats). Every dog is different, so adjust based on body condition, energy needs, and common sense. You've got this!

Dog's Weight	Puppy (2–12 months)	Adult (1–7 years)	Senior (7+ years)
5–10 lbs	1–1.5 cups	0.5–1 cup	0.4–0.75 cup
11–20 lbs	1.5–2.5 cups	1–1.5 cups	0.75–1.25 cups
21–40 lbs	2.5–4 cups	1.5–2.5 cups	1.25–2 cups
41–60 lbs	4–5.5 cups	2.5–3.5 cups	2–3 cups
61–80 lbs	5.5–7 cups	3.5–4.5 cups	2.75–3.75 cups
81–100 lbs	7–8.5 cups	4.5–5.5 cups	3.5–4.5 cups
100+ lbs	Add 1/2 cup per 10 lbs	Add 1/3 cup per 10 lbs	Add 1/4 cup per 10 lbs

MORE FROM JOYFUL BOWL SERIES

The Joyful Bowl started with a cookbook — created to help dogs struggling with allergies, sensitivities, and chronic issues tied to commercial food. But it's become a growing set of tools to help you feed with confidence, track progress, and simplify homemade meals.

To make the journey even easier, we're building a series of practical, thoughtful companions designed to support you long after the last recipe.

Homemade Healthy Dog Food Cookbook

120+ clean, easy, vet-approved recipes — plus a 30-day reset plan to soothe allergies, support digestion, and help your dog thrive naturally. Includes feeding charts, sample meal planner, pantry checklists and more.

Homemade Healthy Dog Food Journal: A 30-Day Reset Companion Guide

Track meals, symptoms, poop quality, energy, and more — perfect for dogs with allergies, sensitivities, or complex health histories. Includes space for vet notes, weight tracking, and monthly summaries.

Homemade Healthy Dog Food Recipe Notebook

A blank cookbook for your own creations. Write down your dog's favorite meals, custom tweaks, and homemade treats — organized by protein, meal type, or occasion.

Homemade Healthy Dog Food Meal Planner & Grocery List — 12 Weeks

A compact, no-fuss option for beginners or casual feeders. Track 3 months of meals, grocery lists, batch prep, and notes in one tidy notebook.

→ Great for trying out home feeding without feeling overwhelmed or as a gift to an aspiring healthy dog parent.

Puppy Health Records and Daily Care Log

The perfect companion for new puppy parents. Track potty breaks, meals, weight, vet visits, and early milestones, plus space for training goals and sweet "firsts." A practical and sentimental keepsake to support healthy routines from day one.

Whether you're just starting out or settling into a long-term homemade routine, these tools are here to help you stay on track, reduce overwhelm, and keep tails wagging.
