DEAR PARENTS,

Welcome to the magical world of finger painting!
This book will be a wonderful guide for your child on a bright, fun, and creative journey.

Finger painting is more than just play – it helps children grow. It develops fine motor skills, hand–eye coordination, and sensory awareness, all of which are very important for learning, speech, and thinking.

Here there are no “right” drawings or strict rules. What matters is not the final picture, but the joy of painting, the freedom to create, and the happiness of discovery.

Encourage your child to explore colors, shapes, and feelings. Every dot, spot, or stroke is special – each one is a step toward imagination and self-expression.

All you need is some paints, large sheets of paper, and space for your child to create freely.

Enjoy these warm and colorful moments together – they will stay in your hearts forever!

A cluster of yellow paint splashes of various sizes is located in the bottom right corner of the page.
